Representation from a broad range of healthcare professionals and people with lived experience such as allied health professionals, physiologists, nurses including clinical nurse specialists, patient representatives, anaesthetists, physicians, surgeons, psychologists and non-clinical professionals. Anaesthesia is the largest single specialty represented but we aim to increase the proportion of other groups.

What's happening next?

We have rich, relevant webinar content scheduled for the remainder of 2024 and we are planning sessions for 2025. We will be inviting representation from all four nations to join the project team, as well as encouraging members from all relevant professions to join the SIG.
